

THE LIONS REVENGE
ON THE MAN

Once upon a time there was a young lion. He was a bit lazy and a bit dozy and he led a very quiet life.

Until one Thursday he heard a voice crying "Help....help...."

It was a Goose. "Help....help", said the goose.

"What's the matter, whatever is the matter Goose ?"

"I've had the most dreadful dream !"

"Oh is that all." said the lion.

"It was terrible...I heard a voice in my dream. A big voice...and the voice said.

Animals look out Man is coming
Animals run and keep on running
Man will whip and beat your mother
Man will kill and eat your brother."

"Man !!" said lion.

"Yes, Man. You must do something."

"Me ?" said the lion

"Yes you", said the Goose thinking quickly, "you, with your long sharp claws and your large sharp teeth, your strong strong paws and your extremely frightening facial expressions."

"Do. What shall I do ?" asked the lion.

"Well, you're the only animal with the strength and cleverness to sort out Man."

The lion was flattered "You're right. Obviously you're right".
